VICTORY LOAN DRIVE STARTS OCTOBER 29

The Victory Loan Drive will begin October 29th, 1945, and will end December 8th, 1945. Mississippi's quota will be $34,000,000, divided as follows: E. Bonds, $17,000,000; other bonds, $17,000,000.

With the end of the war, many people will probably feel that it is not necessary to raise any more money through bond drives. However, when careful thought is given to the matter, we can readily see where additional expenses are continuing to pile up. It is necessary that these expenses be met.

It is quite obvious that many thousands must remain in service and that the expenses incurred by the war cannot suddenly stop, any more than we can suddenly withdraw from war theatres. In order to carry on, we need money; and makes the Victory Loan absolutely necessary.

It is necessary that the many millions of boys scattered throughout the world be brought back home and that the wounded be taken care of and rehabilitated. THIS TAKES MONEY.

In this drive a special bond, commemorating the memory of President Roosevelt, will be issued. The denomination of this bond will be $200.00, and the issue price, $150.00. It will be available at the start of the Victory Loan on October 29th.

Mr. W. J. Gex, Jr., will serve as chairman of the Victory Loan Drive in Hancock County. Together with the Director of the War Finance Committee, he will call a meeting of the workers throughout the county and a thorough organization will be perfected.

'Inn Mississippi' Completely Destroyed by Fire

The two story frame building on Highway 90 about six miles west of here and known as "Inn Mississippi" was completely destroyed by fire late Sunday afternoon.

The building was the property of Mr. Emilio Cue and was leased to Edward L. Osborn of Picayune who operated a filling station, short order and soft drink stand. He and his family lived in the upstairs.

About 3:30 p. m. on Sunday fire was discovered in an upstairs bedroom but was extinguished. Considerable damage was done to the furnishings and the building.

Approximately an hour later flames leaped from the building and before assistance could be had the fire was beyond control and the building and contents were destroyed. A few pieces were taken from the first floor but Mr. Osborn's loss is estimated at between $1500 and $2000. There was no insurance. It was said that Mr. Cue carried a small insurance of $1500 on the building. It is supposed that five wires as the first blaze was in the garage.

Awarded Medical Badge

With the 42nd (Rainbow) Division in Austria—Cpl. Emmett Niolet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Niolet of Dedeaux Community, has been awarded the Medical Badge by the 22nd Infantry Regiment of the famed 42nd (Rainbow) Division.

This badge is a result of the requests of thousands of infantrymen who felt that due credit should go to the combat medics who, armed only with the Geneva Cross, daily shared with them the hazards and hardships of front-line fighting. Only medical officers and enlisted men who served under these conditions are privileged to wear this distinctive emblem. President Truman has recently signed a bill authorizing an extra $10 per month to enlisted men who wear the Medical Badge.

Cpl. Niolet, now on occupation duty with the 42nd Division in Austria, earned the Medical Badge by his participation in the division's 450 mile smash from the Harz Mountains of France through the very heart of Southern Germany, and on to the Austrian border, with hard fighting at Wurzburg, Schweinfurt, Furth, Dacheu and Munich serving as combat milestones. The history of the Rainbow Division is studded with accounts of heroic actions of infantry and air units.

Cpl. Niolet was inducted in August 1942 and received Medical Corps basic training at Camp Robinson, Ark. He joined the 42nd Division in June 1943 at Camp Gruber, Okla., and came overseas with his regiment last December.

Major Clyde Sylvester, Graduate of Command and General Staff School

Major Clyde Sylvester, Army Air Corps, was among the graduates of the Command and General Staff School of the Army located at Leavenworth, Kansas.

The school is the only one of its kind in the United States and was established in 1881 on orders from General William Tecumseh Sherman, then commanding general of the United States Army. It was first known as the School of Application for Infantry and Cavalry.

The ten week course that has been given the men taught them what orders to issue for landing operations, for heavy bombing attacks, for ground fighting and for supplying the necessary food, ammunition, clothing, medical supplies, road, bridge and airfield building materials, in the right quantities at the right time and place.

The record of the command and general staff school in training future staff officers how to plan and order victorious battles is said to be very impressive. The school graduated more than 17,000 officers, many of whom helped to bring V-J Day more quickly. Months before D-Day in Normandy student officers at Fort Leavenworth were learning how to land and fight in Normandy.

Many more interesting things could be told about this school which was learning and teaching methods of warfare in advance of what the enemy was planning to do.

The history and operation of the school makes good reading but with the surrender of Germany and Japan there may be a change in the work. Major Sylvester, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Sylvester, is a graduate of Bay High and of Mississippi State. He was a reserve officer while at college and was in charge as commanding officer in the C. C. Camps. He entered the service of the United States in 1941 and has served overseas for thirty months.

He and his wife the former Miss Monie Anderson and their little daughter are at McCook, Ark. Mrs. Lucile Anderson went up for the graduation.

Students and Cadets Eligible For Re-Induction

Colonel L. W. Long, the state director of Selective service, stated that many inquiries had been made in the past few days concerning selective service policy in regard to students in the Army and in the Navy who might be given an opportunity to be discharged and what their eventual status would be.

The state director, in clarifying the present policy, which has not been changed, concerning these cadets and students stated that it was generally conceded by the local boards that men who had served in the land or naval forces merely as students had not made a sufficient contribution to the war effort to be considered to have completed their service and should be eligible for reinduction, should they be under 28 years of age. The state director further stated that in his opinion they could not be placed in the same group with those men who have been honorably discharged under the point system of demobilization who have served faithfully and well over a number of years and have accumulated a sufficient number of points to be discharged.

Colonel Long further stated that in his opinion these students had not fulfilled their obligation to the Government by receiving this training and not making available to the land or naval forces the knowledge that they had gained. Local Boards are cautioned not to commit themselves in advance when interrogated by such students or their commanding officers, since these students are still liable for induction and training under the Selective Service Act. Those men released from the Armed Forces who remain in the Inactive Reserve do not come under the jurisdiction for recall by the local board of selective service.

GEORGE L. CUEVAS, JR.

Final confirmation of the death of their son George Leonard Cuevas, Jr., has been received from the office of the Chief of Naval Personnel, by Tax Collector and Mrs. George L. Cuevas. The following is a copy of the telegram received by them:

"I deeply regret to inform you that a careful review of all facts available relating to the disappearance of your son, George Leonard Cuevas, Jr., Coxswain USNR, previously reported missing, leads to the conclusion that there is no hope for his survival and that he lost his life as result of enemy action on 7 April, 1945, while in the service of his country. If further details are received they will be forwarded to you promptly. Sincere sympathy is extended to you in your great loss."

Vice Admiral Randall Jacobs, The Chief of Naval Personnel, George enlisted in the United States Navy on September 30, 1940 and saw action in the Pacific in many of the major battles. It was concluded by the navy department that he lost his life on April 7, 1945 as a result of enemy action. He had attained the rank of Coxswain and was aboard the carrier, Hancock.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cuevas throughout Hancock County have held high hopes that reports would eventually come to them that their son had been saved, but, alas, this could not be.

Liberated From Japanese Prison

Joy was unrestrained when the news reached here that Pvt. J. C. Baxter had been liberated from a prison in Japan after nearly four years of confinement. Mr. and Mrs. Clay Baxter of New Orleans are in receipt of the following message, "The Secretary of War has asked me to inform you that your son Pvt. J. C. Baxter, Army, was returned to Military patrol on September 6, and is being returned to the United States in the near future. He will be given an opportunity to communicate with you." Signed Acting Secretary of War E. F. Wellrich.

Many know the story of J. C. Baxter who volunteered for the Navy and was rejected; drafted into the Army and when asked what he preferred he said "Overseas duty" and over he went. Was taken prisoner at the fall of Corregidor and was in the Philippine Military prison Camp No. 1 and was later moved to Japan. Little word had been had by his family and other relatives and even when news was received there was no assurance of its being authentic.

No soldier, no high ranking officer, can rival Mr. and Mrs. Baxter in their undimmed courage and faith. ANOTHER BATTLE HAS BEGUN

To tens of millions the world's worst war is over. Thanks to the heroic and faithful efforts of the members of our Armed Forces, those of us in the United States were spared much of the horror and suffering visited upon the inhabitants of many other lands.

But there is another battle that has just begun: that of picking up the pieces of the shattered world and fashioning a new and brighter one.

Among the agencies that will necessarily be in the vanguard of the rebuilding process is the American Red Cross. V-J Day will find hand-picked representatives of that organization scattered throughout the world—wherever American service men are to be found—ministering to the welfare of the greatest United States Military and Naval Force ever mustered. These men and women who wear the emblem of the World's greatest humanitarian organization must and will remain on the job as long as the American soldier, sailor, or marine needs them.

End of the war necessitates wholesale shifting of effort of the American Red Cross on the home front. Just as V-J Day will bring special problems of occupation to warring forces, so it brings readjustment, on the home front that vitally affect such agencies as the Red Cross.

Millions of families must be helped in their readjustment. Millions of veterans will return to their homes in need of guidance. The long range hospital plan under which the Red Cross will provide Medical Social Service and recreation for hospitalized soldiers, and sailors will need trained workers for years to come. The civilian blood donor donations for recognized local or regional medical agencies, offers infinite possibilities.

Overseas there will be calls on America for assistance in the return to peaceful ways of life, because the world in Peace will look to America for leadership just as it did in the war. Through the coming years, as in the past, the American Red Cross must continue its service of ministering to the sufferers of natural disasters.

THE VICTORY OVER INFLATION IS STILL TO BE WON!

SUGAR STAMP REMINDER

The chairman of the Local War Price and Rationing Board yesterday reminded consumers that Sugar Stamp No. 38 in War Ration Book 4 is now valid.

We have a lot of people who thought that Stamp No. 37 had been validated for this period but OPA decided to skip 37 and go to number 38," he said.

The Board chairman explained that last year folks attached Sugar Stamp No. 37 to their canning sugar application, instead of Spare Stamp No. 37 and so lost that coupon.

"For that reason, we decided to go on to number 38, which everyone should have in his ration book."

BETTER GAS DUE SOON

Better grade gasoline in both the regular and premium grades is due on the market soon, it was announced by the War Price and Rationing Board.

"This improved gasoline will cost consumers no more than the lower quality did during the war," he declared. "This is another example of OPA's intention to hold the line against inflationary pressures."

Regular grades of gasoline are being so much improved, he explained, that OPA has lifted the minimum octane rating qualifying for the premium grade ceilings from 75 octane to 78 octane.

FARMERS AND PRICE CONTROL

Exactly how much farmers have contributed to making price control work was brought out yesterday by the War Price and Rationing Board.

"On V-J Day, some 10,000 farmers were serving on local boards," the board declared. "In Hancock County, we have many farmers who have aided our program directly by contributing their time and services."

Farmers generally, as well as those serving on committees and boards, have helped OPA immensely" by giving it a better understanding of their problems and by pointing out how its regulations could be improved.

RUBBER FOOTWEAR RATION FREE

Rationing of industrial rubber footwear has ended, it was disclosed yesterday.

In announcing the fifth commodity group to be freed from ration controls since Japan surrendered, Holcomb said that rubber shoes and rubber boots were available in "supply sufficient to meet demand."

"Every time OPA is able to make an announcement like this, we feel that we are lightening the war-caused burden of American business and consumers and taking another long step back toward the free economy we have waited for so long," he declared.

There is still another phase of Red Cross Service too often overlooked in times of stress. That is the Junior Red Cross Movement. Upon the next generation will fall the task of keeping alive the humanitarian principles that characterize the Red Cross. Civilization cannot afford to let any nation permit its children to become imbued with a passion for war. What better Organization exists to work toward this end than the Junior Red Cross?

Thus the American Red Cross looks to its job ahead, a job that calls for the best brains and leadership in every one of the 3,757 Chapters of this mighty nation.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. "When I take Cardui, it should stimulate good circulation, thus help bring relief to the uterus and help bring relief to the uterus and help bring relief to the uterus."

Enlistments In Regular Army Open

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12—The Regular Army today opened its ranks for the enlistment of 70,000 young men of the seven south-eastern states comprising the Fourth Service Command.

This action offers the triple opportunity of a career, education and patriotic service to residents of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Soldiers now in the service, veterans and other qualified civilians, interested in an Army assignment, are eligible.

Postwar Army needs center on the occupation of enemy countries. With the end of combat missions, numerous advantages are offered young men by the Army which compare favorably with most civilian jobs. In addition, Major General Edward H. Brooks, commanding general, Fourth Service Command, called attention to this fact:

"The men choosing military service in the future will be the guardians of our victory—the guardians of the peace won by our armed forces. A peace that cost this country more than 1,000,000 casualties—nearly 300,000 dead. A peace we must keep.

"Maintaining and keeping this peace will be truly a service not only to the nation but also to all mankind."

Enlisted men in the Regular Army, while engaged in military duties, will find ample time to study in the various educational programs established for their benefit. Practical training in skills will accompany vocational studies, thus qualifying men interested in the trades for much better civilian jobs if they choose to leave the service at the end of their three-years enlistment.

"THE VALLEY OF

Greer Garson, and Gregory
Peck With Donald Crisp
And Lionel Barrymore

Greer Garson and company—and a most distinguished company it is, too—give full meaning and purpose to the two hours of running time allocated to the picturization of Marcia Davenport's novel about a family of Pittsburgh steel-mill owners (1870 and thereafter) and their employees and connections. It is a long story, possessed also of breadth and depth, and it affords opportunities for the expert cast to achieve moments of emotional intensity which capture and hold the observer.

As produced on the grand scale by Edwin H. Knopf, and directed with perfection and judgment by Tay Garnett.

Miss Garson's role, that of an Irish girl who becomes house maid of the mill-owning family and falls in love with the eldest son, displays to complete advantage her personality and talent. But it is not Miss Garson's performance alone, for those of Lionel Barrymore, Gregory Peck, Donald Crisp, Gladys Cooper, Reginald Owen and Marsha Hunt are lengths from the same bolt.

Mr. Crisp portrays the head of the mill-owning family, a rugged individualist with a heart of gold, and Mr. Barrymore, in a gratifying switch from the sweetness and light in which he's specialized in recent years, enacts an embellished employee, who as a strike is on the point of being settled, kills his employer and is killed, in turn, by the mill guards. Scenarists John Meehan and Sonya Levien have handled this labor-capital sector of the story in such a manner as to give both laborites and capitalists dialogue lines to remember with satisfaction.

LOCKJAW DANGER TO ALL FARM LIVESTOCK

Everyone knows that the poison of cobra snakes can cause quick death. But most farmers do not know that a tiny germ, shaped like a drum stick, kills thousands of farm animals with a poison a hundred times more powerful than cobra venom. This is the invisible germ of tetanus, or lockjaw, which lives in the soil, especially on fertilized farms.

The poison if the lockjaw germ is generated after the germ gains entrance to the body through a wound, usually of the puncture type. Horses often contract lockjaw from stepping on rusty nails or other sharp objects. New-born pigs, foals and lambs very frequently die from lockjaw because the raw navel stump contacts this deadly germ in soiled bedding or contaminated earth. Heavy losses from tetanus also follow the common farm operations of castrating and docking. The poison of the lockjaw germ, affects the brain, spinal cord, and nerves. Spasms of the muscles prevent the suffering beast from opening its mouth, and starvation complicates the condition.

Fortunately, science has now placed lockjaw among the preventable diseases. When a valuable horse or calf receives a wound, the animal may be saved if the veterinarian administers antitoxin at once. On farms where tetanus is a known hazard, horses can be permanently immunized by a new type of biological product called "tetanus toxoid." This same preventive is now given to all soldiers, and to horses owned by the Army. Pig losses at castrating time can often be avoided by using a clean knife and turning the pigs to clean pasture. This also applies to freshly docked lambs.

In the northern states such a high percentage of lockjaw cases is fatal that livestock owners should concentrate on prevention rather than cure. Timely use of antitoxin or tetanus toxoid is the most practical insurance against this fatal disease.

Voluntary Enlistments
For Navy

Navy Recruiting Stations all over the country are initiating an all out drive for voluntary enlistments, particularly in the Regular Navy, among men in the age group of 17 to 30 inclusive, who are now eligible by Executive Order of President Truman. This order lifts the ban against voluntary enlistments in draft ages.

The Navy's recruiting drive is designed to speed demobilization of men with long war service, to reduce the Navy's calls through Selective Service and at the same time to enable the Navy to fulfill the extensive responsibilities through the transition period and beyond.

During August, despite the ban on recruiting men between the draft ages of 18 and 37 inclusive, the Navy enlisted more than 16,000 men in the 17-year age group, with parental consent. Of this number 6,300 joined the Regular Navy and the balance entered the Naval Reserve.

Now that the bars are raised permitting the Armed Services to reach into the draft age group for voluntary enlistments the Navy is endeavoring at least to triple the August figures in coming months.

Men who have been in uniform as well as those recently discharged through the Army and Navy demobilization plan are sought through this recruiting drive. Navy spokesmen announced that already a number of World War II veterans are signing up for the Regular Navy. It is anticipated that this number will greatly increase as the demobilization program progresses. Navy officials point out that such further service is solely a matter of voluntary action on the part of those who want to follow the Navy as a career. Many veterans have embraced this opportunity after spending long awaited furloughs and leaves at home.
